

PRE-PARENTING PARADISE

Choose a respected IVF clinic close to a world-class vacation spot, and your carefully-planned fertility treatment could be part of the trip of a lifetime. If you can splash out, head to the relaxed surrounds of one of these luxury destinations

● Hawaii

Clinic to win it: Conceptions Center for Ovum Donation

This clinic specialises in matching prospective parents with the right egg donors for them, and treats patients from within the United States as well as foreign visitors. If you're interested in what they do, before you rush to book that plane ticket to Hawaii, register online to browse their egg donor database and gain a better understanding of the services on offer. Program Director Adrian Pulido, a rockabilly chick and vintage car enthusiast in her spare time, opened the clinic after her own struggle with infertility. Hawaii is famously President Obama's birth place; maybe your baby could get its start in life here, too.

Hot hotel nearby: The Moana Surfrider

Forget the young pretenders; the Moana Surfrider opened its doors in 1901. The up market resort and spa on Waikiki Beach is part of the Westin hotels group. Every suite features the hotel's signature 'heavenly bed', with sheets ranging in thread count from 180 to 250. There aren't many places you could be more comfortably ensconced.
